Total number of new RAF members from host's events - initial

This number is taken from when a participant signs up into a host's event through the Sign up for a hosts private event flow or through the sponsors event flow. This is the time at which they acquire the event code. The number of new RAF members from host's events - remaining is looking through that list of members tied to a each host and verifying that they are "Active". If "Active" than they should be included and only drop off once they become "InActive" by canceling their subscription.

Delete the drop down arrows from this "View" page, but provide for a way to "open" to view the Bio as this could be very lengthy and not fit or viewed easily on one line.

The host logo is pulling the member's profile and not the Host logo as when the Host signed up.

The problem is that the wrong profile is being used in the manage Host view Host pages. I just realized that the fields are coming from the Members profile page and not the Host profile page. *****
